THE January number of the Friend of China contains a summary of the report on native opium i: China made by order of the Inspector General of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, and an article on it. The Friend is presumably edited by the new Secretary of the Society for the Suppression of the Opium in presence of the facts aprung upc the Society in the new report. The statement that the single province of Szechuen alone produces 150,000 piculs of the drug, half as much again as Indis exports to China. seems incredible to the organ of the Society, but it endeavours to take some comfort from the circumstance that the statement is based upon observation only, and not upon statisties. Here, however, is at least overwhelming evidence of the fact that the Anti-opium agitators so long and persistently ignored, namely, that the Chinese did not depend for their supply of opium on India, and that the imported drug formed less than a moiety of the quantity concumed. For many years it was obstinately urged, on platform, in pulpit, and through the Press in England that were the export from India discontinued th Chinese would cease to use and abuse opium. It was vain to point out to them that the cultivation of the poppy bad/for many decades been tacitly encouraged if not openly fostered by Chinese officials, and that were Indian opium withdrawn from the Chinese market, the area now under grain cultivation would he greatly reduced by its conversion into grateful and refreshing in this climate. The Chinese officials to the effect that the Government desired to abolish the habit of opium smoking throughout the empire, and the an unwilling people was constantly hurled by the Anti-Opium Society into the face of proof to the contrary supplied by disinterestsatisfaction with which the Chinese two days for an Inland Sea pilet, G ternment evidently regarded the Additional Article to the Chefoo Convention as a their case as gospel, and its effect was soon

HIGHWAY ROBBERY. Cheung Kwan was charged, with others not in custody, with assaulting Wai Lin Shek and robbing him of a long coat, a waistcoat, and a cap, in all of the value of $20, on the 4th inst. Complainant, master of the Hing Chee shop, said that about 7.30 p.m. on the 4th inst. he was walking along the Prava Central. Suddenly some one grasped him by the threat from behind. He was lifted bodily from the ground and felt several hands in his pockets. The men then took off his silk coat, silk waistcoat, and cap. The articles were valued at $20. H had no money with him. There were about seven men who assaulted him .-- When they had stripped him of his coat and waistcoat footsteps were heard approaching, and the men let him go. He chased defendant, and having caught him handed him over to the Police.

> While a house was being subjected to repairs a wall fell and seriously injured a passer-by. At about dosk, while a tradesman was counting the proceeds of the day, a thief made a grasp at the box and carried nearly the whole sum away A small pediar died in the street, and a charitable institution, upon being informed, incurred the outlay for his interment.

A grand illumination was to have taken place in a certain locality, but consequent upon the close vicinity of the powder magazine the promoters were forbidden for fear of any accident. The superstitious fears of the contributors were for a time very much aroused, until the anthorities, in order to conciliate them, gave them the loan of another spot whereon to raise their sheds and hold their processions.

A fire broke out, but the fire engines did good work and soon suppressed the flames. A serious alterention took place through the interference of a strange woman, who abused the daughter of one of her neighbours. The father losing his temper, assaulted the woman, and the matter now awaits the decision of the Authori-

VICE-ADMIRAL SIR NOWELL SALMON, V.C., K.C.B.

The Admirally and Horse Guards Gazette publishes a portrait of Vice-Admiral Sir Nowell Salmon, the Commander-in-Thief of the British Naval Forces in China, and has the subjoined remarks:—Few men have earned and maintained such popularity, both affoat and ashore, as this truly gallant officer, who it may justly be said is thoroughly "good all round." Although the son of a parson, it was not long before he showed a disposition to enter a fighting service rather than follow the peaceful calling of his father; and at the age of twelve left Marlborough College for the Navy, which he entered in 1847. Seven years later, as a sub-lieutenant, be was appointed to the James Walls, and on the outtestified by the arguments which appear in the break of the war with Russia served in her in Egyptian garrisons, the French flag was hoisted bute the prizes at the end of the year and the leader of the paper of to day. The heavy lesses the Baltic. Here he had but little opportunity of distinguishing himself, but his time came with the Indian Mutiny, when he was attached to the Shannon's Naval Brigade, and was present in action at Kadjwa-where the enemy's Hougkong Gas Company's Shares-$130 per force was cut in two, driven from their position, and lost two guns-and at the ever-memorable Hongkong Hotel Company's Shares-$170 per relief of Lucknow. Here it was that fortune favoured him in giving him the opportunity of proving his bravery, for on Captain Sir William Peel, R.N., who was in command of the brigade, calling for volunteers for a "most dangerous service" Lieutenant Salmon gladly responded. In the official report it is set forth that he showed "conspiouous gallantry at Lucknow, Nov. 16, 1857, in climbing up a tree touching the angle of the Shah Nujjiff to reply to the fire of the enemy." The Shah Nujjiff was a large mosque standing in a garden enclosed by a high loop-Confucius to-morrow, and grand preparations are holed wall. Several-most gallant attempts had The servant who was charged by Captain among people of all nationalities, especially Ja port, in so far as it was possible to deal in a for foot for the observance of the usual cere- been made to carry this point, but officers and men fell fast under the fire of the enemy safely ledged behind the loopholed wall. Peel's gans were brought up within a few yards of the wall, but did no more harm than to knock off flakes of plaster, leaving the solid masonry still standing. This deed of gallantry was mentioned in despatches, and was followed by the award of that "most honourable distinction" for valour, the Victoria Cross, and special promotion to Commander, and he shortly afterwards distinguished himself by the capture of the American filibuster Walker, on the coast of Honduras. After nearly six years' service in this rank he was posted to Captain, and in 1875 was nominated to a Companionship in the Order of the Bath, and a few months later was solected by Her Majesty for appointment as Naval Aide-do-Comp to the Queen, and was specialchosen for advancement to K.C.B. (additional member) on the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's reign. But it is not alone on active service that Sir Nowell Salmon has proved his capabilities. for his administrative qualities gained for him appointment as a member of the Royal Commission on Warlike Stores in 1887, when inquiry was made as to the system under which patterns are adopted and the stores obtained and passed into the Service. The labours of this Commission did much to remove many abuses and to check

Generally the ordinary working Chinaman is improvident, and the knowledge brought before his eyes daily, that as he was singing instead of gathering during the summer, he will have to dance in the winter, and such winter, too, does not improve him. It is just, however, to admit that privations to the verge of starvation are borne with horoic patience. What the quality is that enables a Chinaman to hear with equanimity the greatest troubles that flesh is help to, would be worth knowing. Is it simply patience or callousness? An extraordinary instance occurred at the foreign hospital at Monkden, under the care of Dr. Christie. A Chinaman presented himself for treatment, and brought his colling in him. Said he:-"All that our own doctors can do useless, and I am come to you, not because ${f v}_{ij}$ can cure me, but just to show that I will not throw away any chance." The doctor replied, "There must be a great operation which may cause death, but it may care you." The patient submitted with, one cannot well say indifference. for the ordeal required heroism, and he had his coffin ready for the last emergency, having given the doctor the necessary security in case of death. 24th February. There is plenty of movement just now Saigon, owing to the recent change in the Ad miral of our fleet. The Turenne, armoured erniser, Chasseur, and Villars, the latter from Europe, have arrived. The former brought Admiral Layrle, who is going home by th Melbourne and hands over the command of the Naval forces to Admiral De la Jaille: who now commands the whole of the French fleet in the East, the Indo-Chinese as well as the China station. From an economical point of view this is certainly a praiseworthy alteration. Last Thursday a splendid dinner party united the officers of the several men-of-war at the Hotel Ollivier, whilst the Band of the Turenne played The next morning Admiral Layrle left his flagship under a salute of 13 guns, to be replaced by his successor, who was received with the same number. Besides many changes in the crews of the vessels, the Turenne is to pass into the Bassin de Radoub to undergo repairs, and will then be again a powerful addition to the French fleet in these waters.

The work on our new Post Office is slowly but steadily progressing, and it promises to become a splendid building. I hear the new system of private letter boxes, which can be opened from outside, on the American system, is to La introduced.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

A meeting of the Finance Committee was eld on the 1st instant after the adjournment of the Legislative Council, the Colonial Secretary in the chair, at which the Governor's finance minates were considered.

The CHAIRMAN said the first subject for the consideration of the meeting was a vote of $2,000 to be vested in trustees for the benefit of the widow of the late C. V. Pereira, assistant turukey in Victoria Gaol. The trustees would be empowered to pay the interest only to the widow, and on her death or re-marriage the principal would be divided amongst the children. He did not think it was necessary to go into the papers on this subject. The circumstances of the poor man's death were fresh in the recollection of all, and he did not think $2,000 was an extravagant sum, especially as the widow was to receive only the interest.

The vote was approved. The CHAIRMAN said the next vote proposed was $492 to defray the cost of the Praya survey opposite the Naval Yard and military cantonments. This was undertaken some time ago and paid for by the Surveyor-General out of his own pocket. The work was absolutely necessary in order to make the plans for the extension.

A vote of $132 for wages of scavengers at Hungham Market was also approved.

CONCERT AT ST. GEORGE'S HALL.

The attendance at the concert given on the 27th February in Aid of the Hougkong branch of "The Soldiers' and Sailors' Wives and Families' Aid Association" was exceedingly small, and we fear the deserving charity reaps little benefit. In the midst of our gay season the promoters of a concert must announce a very attractive programme if a full house is wanted, for although we have many undoubtedly good musicians and lovers of music amongst us, they are apparently imagine. For some time they have been under better pleased to attend a performance of popular Robinson and Grace, concluded the first part of the programme.

In the second part, Mr. Hirst sang Soewe's spirited song "Odins Meerssritt" in a very thorough manner, Mrs. Hirst ably playing the difficult pianoforte accompaniment, and was followed by Mrs. G. S. (oxon, who, on this her first publicappearance among us as a vocalist, received a very warm welcome. The very slight nervousness which was just evident in Gounod's "Ave Maria" quite disappeared in Mrs. Coxon's se--cond song, "Dear Heart," and the small audience strongly demanded an encore, which pleasantly acceded to. Mr. Grace sang "May Dew" as his first, and that most absurdly worded song " My love is come," as his second contribution to the evening's entertainment, in his usual free and easy style. The Pipers finished the programme with highland music. We. regret that the results show such a poor assistanceto the very deserving institution, in whose aid the concert was given. The lamented accident to General Cameron prevented Mrs. Cameron from working very actively towards making the affair a success, and in addition to this, the palate of the general public was not sufficiently tickled by the programme. The promoters desire to convey their thanks to the Masonio body, who kindly allowed their decorations from the Ball to remain to adorn the Hall.

THE HIGHLANDERS' OPINION OF HONGKONG:

The Regimental News (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders) says:-

Having now got pretty well settled in this place, perhaps we may be expected to say what our first impressions of it are. Having been to Aber. deen-not the fishing village over the hill, but the original dirty "granite city"-we are, we believe, allowed to change our minds on any point, and possibly our first impressions may be considerably modified. The first thing we noticed as we approached Hongkong was a decided change in the temperature, and we at once wen for more clothes. We found Kowloon a good deal colder than any place most of us had been in for several years, and it was a bit too cold at first sleeping under canvas until an extra issue of blankets was made. From the size of the town and the large amount of shipping in the harbour it was quite evident that the trade here is very large, and we were therefore not much surprised to hear that Hongkong is the third most important port in the world, coming lafter London and Liverpool only.

Another thing we noticed was the appearance of the Chinamen, their pigtails being the objects of much curiosity and almost admiration till we noticed that they were principally made of black cotton, so that, what looks at a distance like a most magnificent growth of hair, on closer inspection proves to be about eighteen inches of hair and three feet of what might perhaps be have heard that it is the great ambition Chinaman to grow a pigtaillong enough to beat his wife with, but we do not vouch for the truth of it. With a bullet at the end no doubt it would be of some use in that way, but it isn't a patch on our "waistbalt, lather buff, with universal digressing. The Chinaman calls us all "foreign devils and looks down on us with a contempt that amusing to a degree. He is very independen and a servant apparently considers his master also arises from his unbounded national conceit. No innovation from any country can to his mind, possibly be an improvement on his own institutions, and so he goes on from year to year, from contury to century, never progressing a single step, but, wrapping himself up in his own conceit, he imagines, in the innocence of his heart, that he lives under a régime that admits of no improvement. Of the Chinese women we have little to say for they seem to take good care that the "fordevils " don't see much of them. This appears to be rather an unnecessary precaution, as from the specimens we have seen walking charity schools are also being erected at his erabout the only points to notice are their excessive plainness and the horrible deformity of their feet. Tastes differ of course very. much on the subject of beauty, but we hardly imagine that a (hinese woman would have much chance in an international beauty show. The children are sometimes very picturesquely dressed, though perhaps in somewhat too glaring tolours for an aesthete, and it is amusing to notice 20,000. the fond care with which the incipient pigtail is tended and adorned by being plaited up with coloured cotton. The fashion for this season appears to be pink for children's pigtails.

The dogs we see about the streets are a great improvement on the mangy parishs we have been attributed to retribution for his great weakness accustomed to, being mostly plump and looking in killing insects.... well cared for. 1890, all shares to rank equally for dividends. The new company would receive from the old company all their property and interests whatseever, including a large stock of raw material, coal, bricks, cement and lime and about $50,000 disposed of in a year, but a profit of $2 or $2.50 a cask could only be obtained on 300,000 casks, or a little more than half, as the remainder would have to be shipped to Manila, Borneo, Singapore, India, and America.

last-named country alone would probably guard, especially in dark nights, of the presence but the profit on this sale would not be larger than 50 cents a cask as the company would have the present shareholders in addition to taking and assuming they all did so that would dispose of 5,000. Three thousand were promised before he began this scheme, and that would only leave 2,000 to be distributed among outsiders, and of these he must give 1,000 to people in Macao, because it was the interest of the company that the shares should be as widely spread as possible Shareholders who had not fully paid their shares the allotment of the balance of the shares would be proceeded with.

Mr. HUTCHISON-In reckening the prospects of profit, what do you take as the price of coment P Mr. Ewens-I think you may safely recken it at $4 per cask. Mr. HUTCHISON-I have seen it done her at $3.50. I think it would be safer to take it at from $3.50 to $3.75.

Mr. Ewens-The profit would be about $250,000, even if you reckon it only at $1 for every cask. Of course you must not reckon it as being 25 per cent. because there would be other expenses, but I think we can safely recken on making 20 per cent. I think also that we shall be able to make more than $1 per cask profit With reference to the new directorate, what do you think ought to be the qualification? At present it is 250 shares, do you think that too

Mr. HUTCHISON thought some of the di rectors should be Europeans. The CEAIRMAN said it would be necessary to lower it then, as though they had many European shareholders they did not hold many shares. The largest helders were Chinese. How would it be to lower the qualification to 50 shares? Mr. HUTCHISON proposed the qualification should be 100 shares. A man should not be director unless he took sufficient amount of inter-

Dr. Ho Kai said a director must have some stake in the company before he could command the confidence of the shareholders. He did not think 200 would be too much. It was then agreed that the qualification for director should be the holding of 100 shares. Dr. NOBLE-May I ask with reference to the allotment of shares whether you are bound to give those 3,000 shares? The CHAIRMAN-I promised them at a time when I was not certain that there would be so many applications for shares as there are, and I think it would be rather unfair to alter it now. Dr. NOBLE-Do you think they should have more claim to them than the original sharecolders? I think you should consider those applicants in the same light as the old shareiolders, and give them one in every two shares.

It seems unfair to the old shareholders. The CHAIRMAN-In reality the old shareolders are getting a bonus of 100 per cent. Mr. DANBY also thought the applicants who had been promised shares should be put on the same basis as the old shareholders.

Dr. Noble-Can Macao give us any business ? The CHAIRMAN said he thought it was to the advancement of the prosperity of the (ompany that Macno should have an interest in the Company. With a large business like this in Macao, and Macao having no interest in it they might be liable to have difficulties thrown in their way. Mr. HUTCHISON said ho thought the best plan would be to leave the disposition of these shares to the discretion of the Chairman to allot them as he thought best in the interests of the company,

This proposal was agreed to. The CHAIRMAN then formally put to the meeting that the capital of the new Company, to be called the Green Island Cement Company, should be $1,000,000, and the motion was carried unani Mr. DANBY proposed that the existing THREATENED ATTACK ON FOR-EIGNERS AT CHEFOO.

28rd February. Great excitement here. Last night at about 1.30 the alarm was given by a Chinese message from the forts that the troops had all rebelled, and, joined by others, they intended to attac Messrs. Crasemann and Hagan's place and then the Custom House. Boats were all prepared and the Foreign residents ready to go aboard the Ching King; an intense excitement prevailed. During the night our Commissioner had an interview with the Tactai. All quiet as vet but the impending clouds seem to be gathering slowly and surely, and we are preparing for all emergencies.
